

Marnie Carlson

For most of her life, Marnie has lived near Chicago where she enjoyed a close relationship with Leadership Resources International since its early days. She has taught and mentored women for twenty years and is presently a women's conference teacher and author of The Path of Joy. Marnie's verse-by-verse teaching helps women grasp the richness of God's Word and practically apply it to their lives in fresh ways. As one woman said, "She has a perfect blend of teaching tools-Scripture, illustrations, applications, warnings, and personalizations all mixed with sincerity." Marnie and her husband Dean are the parents of two grown children, Aaron and Whitney.
